To whom it may concern,

Reggie Jones is the real deal! Not only was his message inspiring, it was "life changing" for so many of our students here at Sacajawea Middle School. They talked about his assembly and Reggie's visit for days and are still reflecting back. Many staff said that it was more than just an assembly, it was a personal story that touched our hearts, and one that shows how perseverance through adversity to find ultimate success is the true testament of champions.

Reggie's passionate and inspiring message for young people was impactful and long-lasting. What I appreciated the most, is that he stayed the entire day and reached out to small groups and classes as well. Reggie's positive outlook, optimism and enthusiasm for life is extremely contagious! Some people have a knack for speaking to audiences, creating an energy and making a connection that is inspiring. Not many of those can do all three, but Reggie hit all three and then some!

I have been in education for nearly two decades now and have seen many presenters and speakers, but none have captured the hearts of an audience like Reggie. Seriously, every school must book him to come and speak to their students if they are serious about having a positive impact. His presentation energized students to reflect and desire a school culture that values inspiration, motivation and education.

Without reservation, I endorse and cherish Reggie Jones, and the work that he is doing to get students motivated to make the most of their education and life's opportunities. Please feel free to contact me for any additional information and or questions at 253.970.7000.
